

Assignment no. 12(b)

- Name : Kunal Dhanaji Khairnar
- College : G.P.Pune
- Class : First-Year (H1)
- Sub : Web Designing

Enroll. No. : 2106099

•INPUT

◎ Aim : Apply different styles to various selectors
i.e. elements, names, ids, class, groups.
Use any webpage created earlier.

◎ Theory : Input program :

```
<html>
<head>
    <title> Assignment 12(b) </title> <style>
        body { font-family: Georgia, "Times New Roman"; background-img: url("164248931949.jpg");
            color: white;
            font-size: 20px;
        }
        .name {
            font-size: "200%";
            margin-left: 20%;
            margin-right: 20%;
            background-color: aquamarine;
            color: darkblue;
        }
        #date {
            font-size: medium;
            color: rgb(251, 255, 0);
        }
        .first {
            background-color: blueviolet;
        }
    </style>

```

black ; color : crimson ; font-size : 500% ;
text-shadow : 2px 2px rgb(206, 204, 55); ">
Top 5 books to Read </h1>    1) 2666  by Robert Bolaño

completed in 2003 shortly before his death  2006  is not only Robert Bolaño's masterpiece ...
Jeremy G.

  2) All About Love
by bell hooks
We're

  3) Desert Solitaire
by Edward Abbey
No author  .

  4) Disgrace
by J. M. Coetzee
One afternoon

```
margin-left : 10% ;
margin-right : 10% ;
border : 5px white ;
}
.second {
background-color : rgb(80,72,72);
margin-left : 10% ;
margin-right : 10% ;
}
.third {
background-color : darkred ;
margin-left : 10% ;
margin-right : 10% ;
}
.forth {
background-color : black ;
margin-left : 10% ;
margin-right : 10% ;
}
.fifth {
background-color : blue ;
margin-left : 10% ;
margin-right : 10% ;
}
</style>
</head>

<body>
<center><span style = background-color :
```

Page No.
Date

 5) Geek Love
 by Katherine Dunn
 This is the ....
 Lizzy A.
</body>
</html>

Assingment 12(b) - Notepad

```

File Edit Format View Help
<html>
<head>

<title>Assignment 12(b)</title>

<style>

body{
  font-family: Georgia, 'Times New Roman', Times, serif; background-image: url("1642489319494.jpg");
  color:white;
  font-size: 20px;
}
.name{
  font-size:"200%";
  margin-left: 20%;
  margin-right: 20%;
  background-color: aquamarine;
  color: darkblue;
}

#date{
  font-size: medium;
  color:rgb(251, 255, 0);
}

</style>

```

Type here to search

18°C Cloudy 10:45 PM 18-01-2022

```
Assignment 12(b) - Notepad
File Edit Format View Help
.first{
    background-color: blueviolet;
    margin-left: 10%;
    margin-right: 10%;
    border: 5px white;
}
.second{
    background-color: rgb(80, 72, 72);
    margin-left: 10%;
    margin-right: 10%;
    border: 5px white;
}
.third{
    background-color: darkred;
    margin-left: 10%;
    margin-right: 10%;
    border: 5px white;
}
.forth{
    background-color:blue;
    margin-left: 10%;
    margin-right: 10%;
    border: 5px white;
}
.fifth{
    background-color: black;
}

Type here to search 10:45 PM 18-01-2022
```

```
Assignment 12(b) - Notepad
File Edit Format View Help
.fifth{
    background-color: black;
    margin-left: 10%;
    margin-right: 10%;
    border: 5px white;
}
</style>

</head>
<body>
<center> <span style="background-color: rgb(0, 0, 0); color:crimson;
font-size: 500%;
text-shadow: 2px 2px rgb(206, 204, 55);>Top 5 Books to Read

 1) 2666
by Roberto Bolaño
Completed in 2003 shortly before his death,  2666 is not only Roberto Bolaño's masterpiece but also one of the  finest and most important novels of the 21st century. It's an entire world unto itself, one — not unlike our own — filled with horror, neglect, depravity, brilliance, and beauty. Epic in scope and epitomizing the
Type here to search 10:45 PM 18-01-2022
```

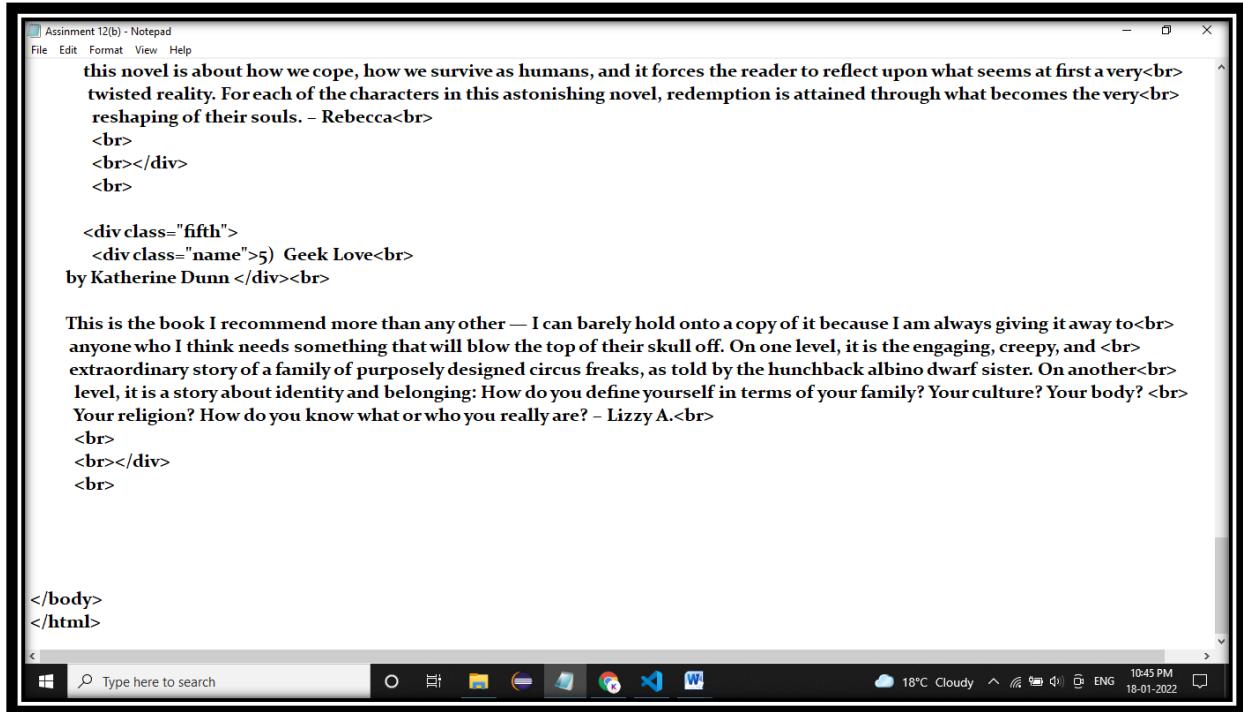

```
Assignment 12(b) - Notepad
File Edit Format View Help
by Roberto Bolaño
Completed in 2003 shortly before his death,  2666 is not only Roberto Bolaño's masterpiece but also one of the  finest and most important novels of the 21st century. It's an entire world unto itself, one — not unlike our own — filled with horror, neglect, depravity, brilliance, and beauty. Epic in scope and epitomizing the
"total novel," 2666 fuses many different genres and styles to create a singular and unforgettable work of  contemporary fiction. While Bolaño's swan song marked the pinnacle of a sadly truncated literary career, his immense talent, creativity, and vision endure. – Jeremy G.

```

 2) All About Love
by bell hooks

We're taught to think of love as something that happens to us. It's a magical but altogether passive experience.
In her deeply personal and emphatic All About Love, renowned social activist and feminist bell hooks asserts that,  in fact, love is a choice we must all make and it's not nearly as abstract or elusive as many of us have come to believe.
The book not only explores the role of love in our lives and the ways our culture has distorted its meaning, but guides  us — with clear definitions and examples — toward a better understanding of how to cultivate it. If you've ever wondered why some relationships stand the test of time while others crumble, you should read this book. – Renee P.

```
Assignment 12(b) - Notepad
File Edit Format View Help
3) Desert Solitaire
by Edward Abbey
No author encapsulated and celebrated the American Southwest more engagingly than iconoclast and raconteur Edward Abbey. Desert Solitaire: A Season in the Wilderness — now nearly a half-century old — is a classic of environmental writing. In  this autobiographical work, Abbey chronicles his time as a park ranger and reflects on landscape, culture, politics, tourism,  environmental disregard, and degradation — doing so with a unique blend of ornery charm and breathtaking description. Though set in his beloved Southwest, Desert Solitaire beautifully and brashly captures the essence of the American outdoors, replete  with disdain for those who'd seek to spoil its natural wonder. – Jeremy G.

 4) Disgrace
by J. M. Coetzee
```

One afternoon while talking with a friend about books, I wondered how to best describe my experience of reading Disgrace, and this is what I came up with: it's like a finely crafted, very sharp knife resting gently against your skin. The uneasiness and suspense are there from the beginning, made all the more powerful by Coetzee's control and use of spare language, and you never really take a deep breath until it's all over. Set in modern South Africa, the book explores what it's like to personally confront deep prejudices. Prejudices of gender, sexuality, class, and race. Far from being a politically correct diatribe,  this novel is about how we cope, how we survive as humans, and it forces the reader to reflect upon what seems at first a very twisted reality. For each of the characters in this astonishing novel, redemption is attained through what becomes the very reshaping of their souls. – Rebecca

```
Assignment 12(b) - Notepad
File Edit Format View Help

this novel is about how we cope, how we survive as humans, and it forces the reader to reflect upon what seems at first a very
twisted reality. For each of the characters in this astonishing novel, redemption is attained through what becomes the very reshaping of their souls. – Rebecca

 5) Geek Love
by Katherine Dunn

This is the book I recommend more than any other — I can barely hold onto a copy of it because I am always giving it away to anyone who I think needs something that will blow the top of their skull off. On one level, it is the engaging, creepy, and  extraordinary story of a family of purposely designed circus freaks, as told by the hunchback albino dwarf sister. On another level, it is a story about identity and belonging: How do you define yourself in terms of your family? Your culture? Your body?
Your religion? How do you know what or who you really are? – Lizzy A.

</body>
</html>
```

: OUTPUT

The screenshot shows a Microsoft Edge browser window with three tabs open: Assignment 14, Assignment 13, and Assignment 12(b). The main content area displays a list of five books. The first book listed is "2666" by Roberto Bolaño, which is highlighted with a yellow border. A purple sidebar contains a brief summary of the book, mentioning its completion in 2003 and its status as a masterpiece. The second book listed is "All About Love" by bell hooks, also highlighted with a yellow border. A dark grey sidebar contains a quote from bell hooks about love. The third book listed is "Desert Solitaire" by Edward Abbey, highlighted with a yellow border. A red sidebar contains a quote from Edward Abbey about the American Southwest.

Top 5 Books to Read

1) 2666
by Roberto Bolaño

Completed in 2003 shortly before his death,
2666 is not only Roberto Bolaño's masterpiece but also one of the finest and most important novels of the 21st century. It's an entire world unto itself, one — not unlike our own — filled with horror, neglect, depravity, brilliance, and beauty. Epic in scope and epitomizing the "total novel," 2666 fuses many different genres and styles to create a singular and unforgettable work of contemporary fiction. While Bolaño's swan song marked the pinnacle of a sadly truncated literary career, his immense talent, creativity, and vision endure. — Jeremy G.

2) All About Love
by bell hooks

We're taught to think of love as something that happens to us. It's a magical but altogether passive experience. In her deeply personal and emphatic All About Love, renowned social activist and feminist bell hooks asserts that, in fact, love is a choice we must all make and it's not nearly as abstract or elusive as many of us have come to believe. The book not only explores the role of love in our lives and the ways our culture has distorted its meaning, but guides us — with clear definitions and examples — toward a better understanding of how to cultivate it. If you've ever wondered why some relationships stand the test of time while others crumble, you should read this book. — Renee P.

3) Desert Solitaire
by Edward Abbey

No author encapsulated and celebrated the American Southwest more engagingly than iconoclast and raconteur Edward Abbey.

The screenshot shows a Microsoft Edge browser window with three tabs open: Assignment 14, Assignment 13, and Assignment 12(b). The main content area displays a list of five books. The first book listed is "2666" by Roberto Bolaño, which is highlighted with a yellow border. A purple sidebar contains a brief summary of the book, mentioning its completion in 2003 and its status as a masterpiece. The second book listed is "All About Love" by bell hooks, also highlighted with a yellow border. A dark grey sidebar contains a quote from bell hooks about love. The third book listed is "Desert Solitaire" by Edward Abbey, highlighted with a yellow border. A red sidebar contains a quote from Edward Abbey about the American Southwest.

Top 5 Books to Read

1) 2666
by Roberto Bolaño

Completed in 2003 shortly before his death,
2666 is not only Roberto Bolaño's masterpiece but also one of the finest and most important novels of the 21st century. It's an entire world unto itself, one — not unlike our own — filled with horror, neglect, depravity, brilliance, and beauty. Epic in scope and epitomizing the "total novel," 2666 fuses many different genres and styles to create a singular and unforgettable work of contemporary fiction. While Bolaño's swan song marked the pinnacle of a sadly truncated literary career, his immense talent, creativity, and vision endure. — Jeremy G.

2) All About Love
by bell hooks

We're taught to think of love as something that happens to us. It's a magical but altogether passive experience. In her deeply personal and emphatic All About Love, renowned social activist and feminist bell hooks asserts that, in fact, love is a choice we must all make and it's not nearly as abstract or elusive as many of us have come to believe. The book not only explores the role of love in our lives and the ways our culture has distorted its meaning, but guides us — with clear definitions and examples — toward a better understanding of how to cultivate it. If you've ever wondered why some relationships stand the test of time while others crumble, you should read this book. — Renee P.

3) Desert Solitaire
by Edward Abbey

No author encapsulated and celebrated the American Southwest more engagingly than iconoclast and raconteur Edward Abbey.

why some relationships stand the test of time while others crumble, you should read this book. – Renee P.

3) Desert Solitaire
by Edward Abbey

No author encapsulated and celebrated the American Southwest more engagingly than iconoclast and raconteur Edward Abbey. Desert Solitaire: A Season in the Wilderness — now nearly a half-century old — is a classic of environmental writing. In this autobiographical work, Abbey chronicles his time as a park ranger and reflects on landscape, culture, politics, tourism, environmental disregard, and degradation — doing so with a unique blend of ornery charm and breathtaking description. Though set in his beloved Southwest, Desert Solitaire beautifully and brashly captures the essence of the American outdoors, replete with disdain for those who'd seek to spoil its natural wonder. – Jeremy G.

4) Disgrace
by J. M. Coetzee

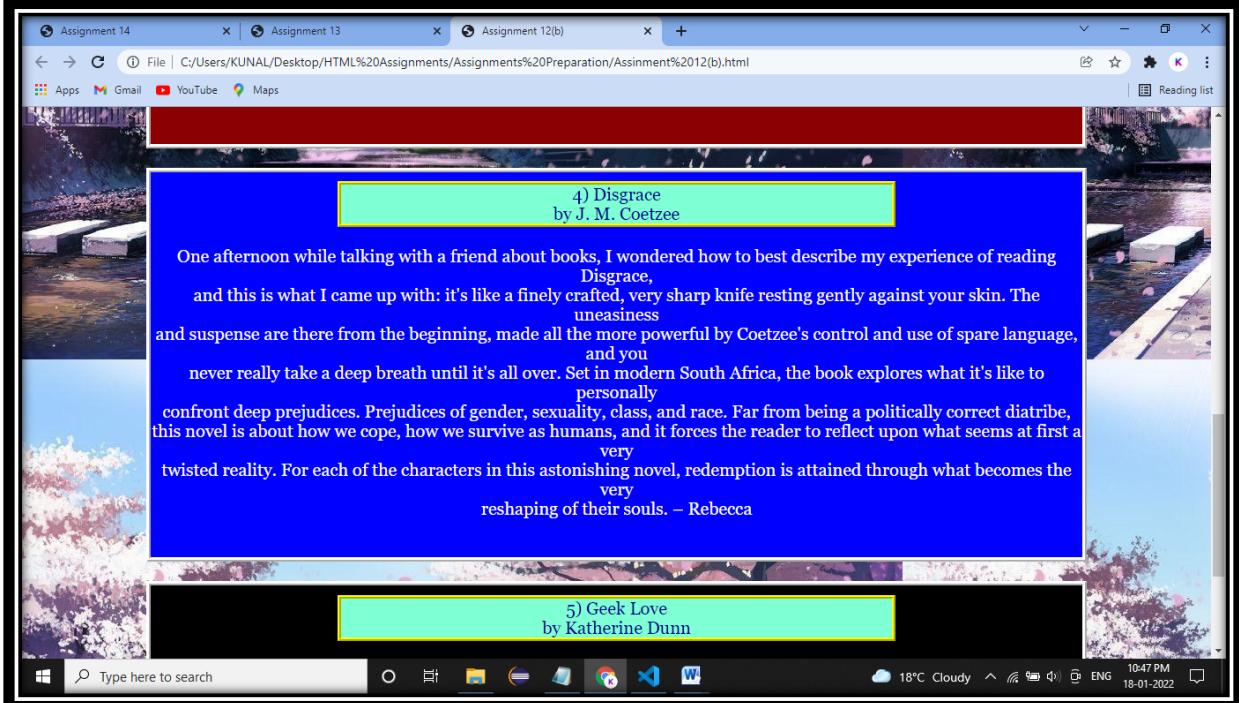

One afternoon while talking with a friend about books, I wondered how to best describe my experience of reading Disgrace, and this is what I came up with: it's like a finely crafted, very sharp knife resting gently against your skin. The

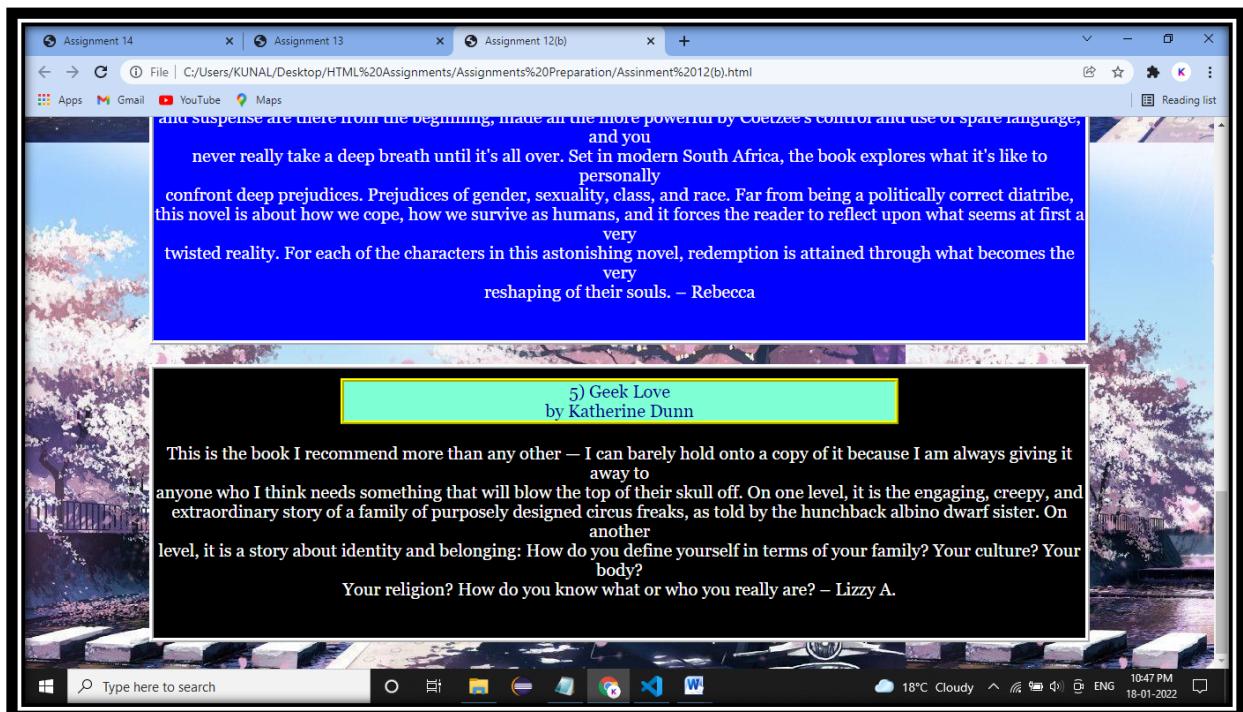

4) Disgrace
by J. M. Coetzee

One afternoon while talking with a friend about books, I wondered how to best describe my experience of reading Disgrace, and this is what I came up with: it's like a finely crafted, very sharp knife resting gently against your skin. The uneasiness and suspense are there from the beginning, made all the more powerful by Coetzee's control and use of spare language, and you never really take a deep breath until it's all over. Set in modern South Africa, the book explores what it's like to personally confront deep prejudices. Prejudices of gender, sexuality, class, and race. Far from being a politically correct diatribe, this novel is about how we cope, how we survive as humans, and it forces the reader to reflect upon what seems at first a very twisted reality. For each of the characters in this astonishing novel, redemption is attained through what becomes the very reshaping of their souls. – Rebecca

5) Geek Love
by Katherine Dunn

Conclusion :

① Conclusion : In this assignment we came to know about applying style by using selectors.